About

This flight will take you on an amazing journey to experience a number of the North's awesome waterfalls. See Australia's longest single dropfall, Wallaman Falls from the unique perspective of above. Then on up the Herbert River Gorge where you'll see the Garrawalt and Yamanie Falls, the beautiful Blencoe Falls and last but not least the mighty Herbert River Falls at the top of the Gorge. Keep your eyes out for some large saltwater crocodiles that surprisingly inhabit this freshwater river system.

The Herbert River Falls is a plunge waterfall on the Herbert River that is located in the UNESCO World Heritage-listed Wet Tropics in the Far North region of Queensland, Australia. The waterfall plunges from the Atherton Tableland at an elevation of 505 metres (1,657 ft) and falls between 56–75 metres (184–246 ft) into the Herbert River Gorge below.

Girringun National Park is comprised of five sections—Blencoe Falls, Dalrymple Gap track, Mount Fox, Princess Hills and Wallaman. Take in the spectacular views of Wallaman Falls, Australia's highest single-drop waterfall. Or experience the sites and sounds of the Blencoe Falls as they race towards the Herbert River.
